Exceeding Expectations

“This will be our second home built by Arbogast Homes in the Palmilla community. As we looked at other builders, we found Arbogast Homes to be of the highest quality and use building standards that exceeded our expectations. Jake, Tod, and Hunter are great to work with and are super responsive. The collective team is well-organized and makes the entire process, from the home design to punch list items, very easy and enjoyable. Highly recommend!”

Palmilla Beach Resort

Within Budget & On Time

“The quality of the craftsmanship that went into our home is beyond words – A+++! Sharp edges, no caked in corners, doors open and close correctly, level floors, the list goes on. All of this was done within budget and on time. We are truly appreciative of all of the hard work that went into constructing our home from the first hand shake to the last hug.”

Commitment to Quality

"I knew I made the right choice the first time I talked to Tod Arbogast. He made me feel like my project was important to him and had his personal commitment. Throughout the build they were highly communicative, flexible with decisions and ultimately delivered a home that exceeded my expectations. It has been great to see their success and I am proud to share my house as a representation of the quality they construct. Just as important as the quality, I am extremely pleased with the way I was valued as a client before, during and after completion. A special thanks to Tod and Jake!"

Attention to Detail

“Arbogast Coastal Homes built our beach house in 2019 on the Texas Coast. Under the supervision of Jake Blair it was done on schedule and done with close attention to detail. In fact I cant really remember a punch list when they finished. Over the last two years I have been happy to give references to their prospective clients and will continue to do so going forward. If we were to build another beach house there would be only one contractor we would even consider and that is Arbogast Coastal Homes.”

Building Excellence in Central Texas for Over a Decade

Tod Arbogast began his career in the homebuilding industry after gaining extensive and valuable experience in building design, operational modeling, and merchandise planning for some of the country's largest retailers. The need to establish roots brought Tod to Texas and an eventual career with Dell where he served most recently as Director, Sustainable Business and Dell Giving, working with Dell's Chairman and CEO Michael Dell.

Since 2005, Tod's passion for luxury design and high-end construction has translated into Arbogast Homes building some of the most beautiful residences in Central and South Texas. Then, what started as a few special projects for his family and some friends turned into the beginning of another division for Arbogast Homes — Coastal. Arbogast Coastal Homes provides the same attention to detail, impeccable design and excellent customer experience are delivered time and time again all over Port Aransas and the coast.

Arbogast Coastal Homes, a joint venture between Tod Arbogast and division president, Jake Blair, helps families from all over to build their dream beach home.

Jake Blair grew up in the wonderful city of Austin, Texas where he received his degree in Construction Science. He started his career working in the countertop and flooring industries and moved into residential production building before switching over to custom homes. This breadth of experience allows him to be more hands-on with clients and put his love and attention to detail to greater use.

Jake and Tod met in 2016, and with a similar passion for quality and the customer experience, joined forces to build custom homes in Port Aransas. Jake now lives on the coast to be at the helm of Arbogast Coastal and personally oversees each project to ensure it delivers on the promise of Relaxation, Refined.
